ABOUT THE COVER

Student: Nova Stanley | Teacher: Carl Landegger | Principal: Manuel Ureña

Each year, the NYC Department of Education and Cooper Hewitt, Smithsonian Design Museum partner on a cover design challenge for public high school students. This book's cover was designed by Nova Stanley, a student at High School of Art and Design. Stanley's design expresses the new independence and relationships that students build as they transition into high school. These students look out into the city, imagining their next four years of growth and discovery. For more information, including how to enter next year's challenge, ask your art teacher or visit schools.nyc.gov/CoverDesign.

NYC DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Our schools belong to every family and student in New York City. The NYC Department of Education (DOE) is committed to providing for diverse needs, as well as fostering equity and excellence with warmth and inclusion. We are grateful for the dedicated students, teachers, staff, families, and communities who make our schools strong. Our City's young people are the future—here's how we're giving them a running start:

We are committed to equity and diversity

All NYC public high schools welcome and support...

- Students who are multilingual language learners
- Immigrant students and families
- Students with disabilities
- LGBTQ students and families
- Students with accessibility needs
- Students raising children of their own
- Students in temporary housing
- Students who dream of being scientists, mechanics, musicians, entrepreneurs, nurses, and more—find a wide range of programs in this guide and at MySchools.nyc.

In districts across the City, we are working with communities to develop plans that increase diversity in more of our schools. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/DiversityAdmissions.

We are committed to excellence

Many NYC Department of Education (DOE) public high schools have programs that focus on a particular interest area, such as public administration, performing arts, or computer science, but all schools also offer a broad liberal arts curriculum. Through Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs and initiatives like College Access for All, we are empowering students with the support and skills that will help them get offers from—and succeed in—college and careers.

We welcome your input and involvement

- If you or your parent/guardian wants to help support your current or future school, ask your principal or the school's parent coordinator how you can help.
- Do you have feedback for us about this high school admissions guide or MySchools? If so, email OSEComms@schools.nyc.gov.

WE SERVE

AND WELCOME ALL NYC STUDENTS, INCLUDING

Multilingual/English Language Learners | schools.nyc.gov/ELL

All NYC public schools provide a range of supports and services for Multilingual Learners (MLLs)/English Language Learners (ELLs) to develop their English language skills and prepare them for success in school, college, and careers. Learn more about English as a New Language (ENL), Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE), and Dual Language (DL) service delivery models on our website.

 MySchools Tip: If you're interested in screened: language programs, filter for programs that use the  Screened: Language admissions method. Learn if you meet programs' requirements (home language, years living in the country, etc.)—learn more in Section 4.6.

Students with Disabilities | schools.nyc.gov/SpecialEducation

Every high school is expected to welcome and serve students with disabilities in accordance with students' Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). All high school programs admit general education students and students with disabilities. Learn more in Section 4.3. Testing accommodations are provided according to students' IEPs—see Section 4.10. For students whose IEP recommends District 75 programs, see Section 1.4.

Students with Accessibility Needs | schools.nyc.gov/BuildingAccessibility

The NYC Department of Education (DOE) is committed to providing students with accessibility needs an offer to a high school program that allows them to access all relevant programs and services. For the most up-to-date information about accessibility, check our website and contact schools directly.

 MySchools Tip: Filter for programs at  Fully Accessible or  Partially Accessible schools.

Students in Temporary Housing | schools.nyc.gov/STH

Students in temporary housing may apply to any high school programs, even if they move to a temporary residence outside of NYC. They are not required to submit documentation (including address, proof of age, and immunization) in order to participate in an admissions process and accept their offer.

Immigrant Families | schools.nyc.gov/School-Life/Support/Supporting-Immigrant-Families

Every child in New York City has a right to a public school education, regardless of immigration status. By law, children may not be asked to present documentation of immigration status, nor can they be denied admission, registration, or enrollment in school based on immigration status. DOE employees will not ask about a family's status, and if they do learn about immigration status, they must keep it confidential. Public schools are at the center of our democracy and remain safe places for all students, families, and educators.

LGBTQ Students and Families | schools.nyc.gov/LGBT

All of our schools welcome and support lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer or questioning students, families, and staff. You can apply to single-gender programs based on your gender identity, regardless of sex assigned at birth. A transgender student interested in a single-gender school should ask your school counselor to assist in the application process.

 MySchools Tip: Use the search term GSA for a list of schools with a club that supports LGBTQ students.

Students with Children | lyfenyc.org

1.0 KNOW THE PATHS TO HIGH SCHOOL

For most students in New York City, there are two paths to DOE public high schools:

- Applying to high school by submitting a high school application: All eighth grade students should apply.
- Applying to the specialized high schools by testing and/or auditioning: This is optional.

Learn about other high school options in Sections 1.4-1.6.

1.1 Who Can Apply?

All current eighth grade students who live in New York City can apply to high school and the specialized high schools this fall for the 2020-2021 school year. First-time ninth grade students (students who are not repeating ninth grade) can also apply to programs with tenth grade seats. See pages 1-3 to learn how our schools support and serve all NYC students.

1.2 High School

In the fall, access your personalized high school application and submit it online with MySchools (MySchools.nyc) or through a counselor by Monday, December 2, 2019. You can apply to 12 programs on your application. In March, you will get your high school offer letter, which will include a high school offer and/or any offer(s) to specialized high schools (see Section 1.3). If you choose to not submit a high school application, you will get an offer to the closest high school program with available seats. Learn more in Sections 2.0-5.0 of this book. There is a Round 2 of high school admissions in the spring, but there are fewer available programs in Round 2—learn more in Section 7.2.

1.3 Specialized High Schools

Apply to one or more of the nine specialized high schools by taking a test or auditioning this fall. There are two types of specialized high schools:

Testing Schools

Eight of the specialized high schools require students to schedule (register for) and take a test—the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT)—for admission. These schools make offers to applicants based on SHSAT scores, the order applicants list these schools on their test answer sheets, and seat availability. They do not consider students' academic records.

Schedule your SHSAT test date one of three ways by the deadline in October:

- Online with MySchools (MySchools.nyc)—click the Schedule tab
- Through your middle school counselor
- In person at a Family Welcome Center—find locations on the inside back cover of this guide

Apply to these schools by taking the SHSAT; your test is your application. Applicants who score high enough will get one offer. The testing specialized high schools are:

- High School of American Studies at Lehman College
- The Bronx High School of Science
- The Brooklyn Latin School
- Brooklyn Technical High School
- High School for Math, Science, and Engineering at City College of New York
- Queens High School for the Sciences at York College
- Staten Island Technical High School
- Stuyvesant High School

Audition School

One of the specialized high schools, Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Arts and Performing Arts, requires students to register and audition for any of these six studios: Dance, Drama, Fine & Visual Art, Instrumental Music, Technical Theater, and Vocal Music. Offers to these studios are determined by applicants' auditions or submissions. LaGuardia High School also reviews applicants' academic record and attendance information from the prior school year.

Schedule your audition test date one of three ways by the deadline in October:

- Online with MySchools ( MySchools.nyc)—click the Schedule tab
- Through your middle school counselor
- In person at a Family Welcome Center—find locations on the inside back cover of this guide

Apply to LaGuardia High School by auditioning; the audition and the on-site writing response is your application.

Resources

Use the Specialized High Schools Student Handbook to learn how to prepare for the SHSAT and LaGuardia High School auditions. Pick up a copy of the handbook at your school or a Family Welcome Center. You can also download the handbook or read it online at schools.nyc.gov/SHS.

MySchools Tip: Use MySchools ( MySchools.nyc) to read about each specialized high school and see if it's a good fit for you. To see all eight testing schools at a glance, filter for programs that use the  Test admissions method.

Results

If you take the SHSAT or audition for LaGuardia High School, your high school offer letter may include an offer from a testing school and/or any offers from LaGuardia studios. These schools do not participate in Round 2 of high school admissions, and you cannot submit an appeal to a specialized high school.

Tip Explore your options beyond the specialized high schools! Use MySchools to find other exciting academic programs to list on your high school application.

1.4 Admissions for Students in District 75 Programs

District 75 provides highly specialized instructional support for students with significant challenges, such as Autism Spectrum Disorders, significant cognitive delays, emotional disturbances, sensory impairments, and multiple disabilities. These supports are offered in a wide variety of settings and locations across New York City, including special classes co-located in District 1-32 schools, school buildings where all students have Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), general education classrooms, agencies, hospitals, and at home.

Students enrolled in District 75 who are considering a District 1-32 high school can participate in high school admissions. These students should also work with their IEP team to determine whether the recommendation for District 75 for high school is still appropriate. If the IEP team believes that District 75 continues to be appropriate, the District 75 Placement Office will notify the student of their District 75 high school placement in May or June.

Tip Learn more about District 75 programs at schools.nyc.gov/D75.

1.5 Admissions for Students (Aged 16-21) Who Are Behind on Credits

Transfer schools are academically rigorous high schools designed to serve students who are 16-21 years old and want to graduate. If you have dropped out of school or fallen behind on credits, a transfer school can help you get back on track toward graduation; some schools accept students who are 15 years old, and many transfer schools are flexible about who they admit. We support student success in these schools through a matching process during individual admissions interviews.

If you are interested in a transfer school, reach out directly to the school to learn more. You can also visit a Referral Center, which are located in each borough, for more information and counseling. Learn more about transfer schools and other options, as well as Referral Center locations, at schools.nyc.gov/Enrollment/Other-Ways-to-Graduate.

MySchools Tip: Filter for  Transfer schools to get a list of these schools, or use the search term transfer program to find transfer programs at traditional high schools. You can learn about these options in MySchools, but you cannot apply to them online.

1.6 Charter Schools

Charter schools are free public schools that are open to all New York City students and that operate independently from the Department of Education (DOE). Instead, charter schools operate under a performance contract, or charter, issued by a New York State authorizer. Charter schools are accountable for meeting specific academic goals and often try different approaches to ensure their students meet these goals.

Charter schools have a separate high school application process. If you would like to apply to high school at a charter school, please contact that school directly to learn about their enrollment and admissions. Note that some charter high schools only admit students who attend eighth grade at one or more partner charter middle schools.

Any student eligible for admission to a DOE public school is eligible for admission to a public charter school. For a list of charter high schools by borough, turn to the back of this book. Visit schools.nyc.gov/Charters or call 212-374-5419 for more general information.

2.0 TYPES OF SCHOOLS

Some high schools reserve seats for specific student groups, offer additional services for students and families, or provide opportunities for students to earn college credits and/or gain work experience.

Tip Did you know there are schools with programs that have seats set aside especially for students who are starting tenth grade in fall 2020? If you are a current first-time ninth grade student, you can apply to a program or programs at these schools—learn more in Section 4.3.

As you read this section, note the icons next to some school types—you will also see these icons in schools' listings in this admissions guide.

2.1 Career and Technical Education Schools and Programs

Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs offer NYC public school students engaging opportunities to pursue industry-recognized credentials, participate in job shadowing and paid internships, and receive mentoring from professionals—critical experiences to prepare young people for entry to postsecondary education, training, and employment. Students graduate from CTE programs with a strong academic foundation, technical and employable/durable skills, and authentic work experience to compete successfully for careers in high-demand sectors of New York City's economy.

CTE Career Pathways

New York City offers over 300 Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs to choose from at over 135 high schools, including some of our specialized high schools! These programs connect students to a wide range of industry options leading to more than 79 specific postsecondary options, career pathways, or jobs. All CTE programs fall into one of the following 16 categories:

- Agriculture, Food & Natural Resources
- Architecture & Construction
- Arts, A/V Technology & Communications
- Business Management & Administration
- Education & Training
- Finance
- Government & Public Administration
- Health Science
- Hospitality & Tourism
- Human Services
- Information Technology
- Law, Public Safety, Corrections & Security
- Manufacturing
- Marketing
- Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics
- Transportation, Distribution & Logistics

Benefits of CTE Programs

A CTE program offers you:

- The opportunity to earn college credits, advanced standing, or reduced tuition in a related college/university program upon graduation
- Opportunities to earn stackable industry-recognized certifications that can help you prepare for internships, college, and in-demand careers
- Chances to participate in work-based learning experiences like career mentoring, workplace tours, job shadowing, and paid internships
- Empowerment to master 21st century skills such as planning for success, collaboration, problem solving, social awareness, and professional attitude
- A CTE Endorsement on your high school diploma

TIP

Interested in exploring CTE options? Attend the CTE High School Fair in October and visit the CTE website at www.cte.nyc.

2.2 Community Schools

Community schools help students find their passion by integrating academics, health, youth development, expanded learning such as afterschool and summer programs, and family engagement. By bringing schools, families, and community partners together to create new opportunities, community schools foster collaboration within a community so that students are ready and able to learn, and graduate high school prepared for college and success.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term community school to find schools that offer these services.

2.3 Early College

Early college high schools blend a rigorous college-prep curriculum with the opportunity to earn up to two years of college credit toward a liberal arts Associate degree while in grades 9-12 at the high school level at no cost to students. These schools maintain a partnership with a college to provide academic and social supports to help students develop the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in college. Find more information on a school's early college degree course offerings on its MySchools page, or contact the school directly.

2.4 Early College and Career Schools Grades 9-14

Early college and career schools, also called NYC P-TECH Grades 9-14 schools (Pathways in Technology Early College High Schools), offer a six-year program where students can earn a high school diploma and a no-cost, career-specific Associate's degree (or up to two years of transferable college credits), plus gain valuable workplace skills. As both an early college and a Career and Technical Education (CTE) school, each school has a specific science, technology, engineering, or math-based career theme for its rigorous academic and CTE program. Students participate in career exploration activities with the school's lead industry partners, including work-based projects and internships. Students may also begin taking tuition-free college classes as early as tenth grade at the partnering college and have until the fourteenth grade to complete the college credits towards an Associate degree. Through these partnerships, graduates are prepared to begin their careers and continue their postsecondary education. Find more information on a school's career theme and early college degree pathway on its school page in this directory, or contact the school directly.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term 9-14  for a list of these schools.

2.5 Performance Assessment Schools

Instead of requiring that students pass certain Regents exams, these schools' graduation requirements include performance assessments in major subject areas. Assessments involve extensive research projects, presentations, and defense of your work. These schools have a waiver from the New York State Education Department permitting them to award diplomas to students who pass all required courses and performance assessments, in addition to the following:

- New York Performance Standards Consortium schools require you to pass the English Language Arts Regents and complete performance assessments in science, social studies, and math.
- Other performance assessment schools require you to pass the ELA and math Regents.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term performance assessment  for a list of these schools.

2.6 Schools for New Arrivals

Schools for new arrivals, including schools within the International Network for Public Schools, serve students who are new to the country. All have requirements regarding home language, English proficiency, and/or the amount of time a student has lived in the United States.

MySchools Tip: Filter for  Schools for New Arrivals to get a list of these schools. Before you apply to a school for new arrivals, review any program requirements under + Eligibility Description (if applicable), + Admissions Priorities (if applicable), + Admissions Method, and + Selection Criteria (if applicable).

3.0 EXPLORE SCHOOLS AND PROGRAMS

As you start exploring your high school options, consider what matters most to you—this might be location, language offerings, a particular interest area, a sports team, or accessibility.

You can start exploring either in this guide or online with MySchools (MySchools.nyc).

3.2 Understanding School Information

Each high school has a brief listing in this admissions guide and a more detailed page in the online MySchools (MySchools.nyc) directory. You can use this information to learn if a school might be a good place for you. Consider how a school's offerings line up with your interests. Are its classes and activities ones that you enjoy, do well at, or would like to explore?

Note that all the information in a school listing refers to information from the previous year and may change for the 2020-2021 school year. Contact schools directly for the most up-to-date information.

School Performance

Here are some City school performance averages so you can see how specific schools compare:

- 76% of students graduate in four years
- 59% of students enroll in college or career programs within six months
- 84% of students feel safe in the hallways, bathrooms, locker room, and cafeteria
- 75% of students feel that their school offers a wide enough variety of programs, classes, and activities to keep them interested in school
- 89% student attendance rate

If you have questions about performance data, speak with your school counselor. You can also look up any school's School Quality Report at schools.nyc.gov/Find-a-School. These reports include more detailed information on each school's performance. Additionally, the NY State Education Department determines school accountability based on its own set of measures—learn more at data.nysed.gov.

Diploma Endorsements

Students may earn diploma endorsements after successfully completing additional courses and exams. You can find more information here, schools.nyc.gov/GraduationRequirements.

Types of diploma endorsements include:

- Arts Endorsement: Students must complete 10 credits in one art form (visual arts, music, dance, or theater arts) and pass the corresponding arts assessments.
- CTE Endorsement: Students in approved CTE programs must meet alternative credit and assessment requirements.
- Mastery in Math (Advanced Regents diploma only): Students must score 85 or higher on each of the three required math Regents exams (Algebra I, Geometry, and Algebra II).
- Mastery in Science (Advanced Regents diploma only): Students must score 85 or higher on any three Science Regents exams.

MySchools Tip: Learn which diploma endorsements a school's graduating students received last year by clicking on the + Academics section of its school page.

3.3 Finding Programs

When you apply to high school, you are not just applying to schools—you are applying to programs. Think of a program as a doorway to get into the school. If a school has multiple programs, you can apply to more than one program at that school. For instance, a school might have an arts program and a technology program; if you were interested in both dancing and computer science, you might apply to both programs at the same school. They would count as two different program choices.

The information in this guide's school listings and in MySchools include program information, which can help you find programs that interest you. Program information can also help you figure out your chances of getting an offer to a specific program—learn how in Sections 4.0-4.7.

Interest Areas

All New York City public high school programs offer a broad liberal arts education. Additionally, most programs focus on a specific interest area, such as architecture or science and math, and they may offer additional courses in that subject or field. Many but not all programs' interest areas are also part of their names. You can find a program's interest area in its school listing in this guide and in MySchools.

Schools offer programs in the following 22 interest areas:

**All programs include courses across a wide range of subjects. Programs listed as "humanities & interdisciplinary" or "zoned" do not emphasize a particular interest area.*

 MySchools Tip: Use any of the interest areas, such as health professions , as a search term to find programs related to this interest area. You can also try more specific words like nursing .

3.4 Program Eligibility

Some programs are only open to students who live or go to school in a certain borough, who speak a home language other than English, or who meet other eligibility requirements. For instance, a program's eligibility could be "Open only to Bronx students or residents." This means that if a student lives or attends school in a different borough, they cannot list this program on their application.

In This Admissions Guide

Some programs with eligibility criteria are marked as follows:

-  Open only to female students
-  Open only to male students
-  Open only to English Language Learners who have lived in the US less than a certain amount of time

In MySchools

Click on a program to display its eligibility. Once you're logged in to your MySchools account, you'll only be able to add programs to your application that you are eligible to attend.

Tip

Always check MySchools to see if a program has additional eligibility requirements based on location, home language, or similar. A program's eligibility may be more specific than its school's. If no eligibility is listed, all students can apply.

4.0 KNOW YOUR CHANCES

How can you know your chances of getting an offer to a specific program? And how do you increase your chances of getting an offer to a program on your application?

4.1 How Students Get Offers

It helps to start by learning how offers are made. Students get offers to programs based on a few key factors. You can control some of these factors, while others are aspects of the programs themselves. Learning about all of these factors can help you know your chances of getting an offer to each program of interest. This page and the next provide an overview of these factors—read more about them in Sections 4.2-4.7.

HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS

Program's admissions method

For some programs, applicants get offers based on random selection. For other programs, applicants are evaluated based on selection criteria and then ranked based on that evaluation.

For Programs That Use Random Selection

For programs that use random selection, students get offers based on their randomly assigned numbers.

Let's look at a sample program that uses random selection:

This program has four seats and seven applicants. Because there are more applicants than seats, not all of these applicants will get an offer to this program.

- First, students in priority group 1 get an offer in numerical order. Since there are three students in priority group 1, all of them get an offer.
- Then, students in priority group 2 get an offer in numerical order. Since there is just one remaining seat after offers were given to students in priority group 1, only one student from priority group 2—the student who is first in numerical order within that group—gets an offer.
- Now all seats in this program are filled. Based on their randomly assigned numbers, the remaining students in priority group 2 do not get an offer to this program. These students are then considered for offers at the next program on their application.

For Programs That Rank Applicants

For programs that rank applicants, school staff evaluate students for admission based on the program's selection criteria, such as academic records, interviews, and auditions. Then school staff assign a ranking number to applicants based on that evaluation, starting with the top-ranked applicant as #1. Not all applicants will necessarily be ranked by a program.

Let's look at a sample program that uses selection criteria to evaluate and rank applicants:

Seven students applied to this program, which has only four available seats. Five of these applicants were ranked. Notice that there are still more ranked applicants than seats, so not all ranked applicants will get an offer to this program.

- First, ranked students in priority group 1 get an offer in ranking number order. Since there are two ranked students in priority group 1, both get an offer.
- Then, ranked students in priority group 2 get an offer in ranking number order. Since there are two remaining seats after offers were given to ranked students in priority group 1, the students who are first and second in ranking number order from priority group 2 get an offer.
- Now all seats for this program are filled. The remaining ranked student in priority group 2 does not get an offer to this program. This student is then considered for offers at the next program on their application.

4.2 Your Choices on the Application

The number of program choices you add to your application and the order in which you place them matter! Creating a balanced application can increase your chances of receiving an offer to a program you want to attend. A balanced application should have:

- 12 program choices, ANY of which you'd be happy to attend. There is no way to guarantee an offer to your first-choice program, but with more than 700 high school program options to choose from, finding 12 choices that you want should be easy. Discovering more programs that interest you and adding them to your application increases your chance of getting an offer to a program you want. Listing fewer than 12 choices will lower your chances of getting an offer to a program of your choice.
- 12 program choices in your true preference order. Always place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program at the top as #1. You will be considered for your first-choice program first. If you don't get an offer to your first choice, then you will be considered for your second-choice program as though it were your first choice, and so on.
- A mix of programs that do and don't screen applicants. On your application, be sure to include a mix of programs that you have a higher chance, average chance, and lower chance of receiving an offer from. A balanced application includes a mix of programs that are reach, target, and likely for you:
  - Reach = Lower chance you'll get an offer
  - Target = Average chance you'll get an offer
  - Likely = Higher chance you'll get an offer

Note that while some programs (such as programs with more than 10 applicants for every seat) are a reach for everyone, one student's target program may be another student's likely. Use the information and activities in Sections 4.3-4.10 to determine whether a program is a reach, target, or likely program for you.

If a program that you love is a reach for you, consider applying. If it's your favorite program, place it as your first choice on your application! Just be sure to include a mix of programs that are target and likely for you on your application, too. Listing only screened programs lowers your chance of receiving an offer to a program of your choice. A balanced application will give you the best possible chance to get an offer to a program on your application.

Tip

Always place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program at the top as #1. High schools will not see your application choice order, so they will not know if they are your first or twelfth choice!

4.3 Seats: General Education and Students with Disabilities

Each program admits general education students and students with disabilities. Your application will show which designation you are in. This is not something you choose.

| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>▪ For students who receive general education instructional programming.</li><li>▪ For students who receive special education instructional programming for 20% or less of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP.</li></ul> | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>▪ For students who receive special education instructional programming for more than 20% of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP.</li></ul> |

Special education instructional programming includes Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) classes, Special Class (SC), and Special Education Teacher Support Services (SETSS). Related services, such as speech, occupational therapy (OT), and physical therapy (PT), are not considered special education instructional programming for the purposes of high school admissions. Please note that students with 504 accommodation plans are not entitled to seats for students with disabilities if they do not have an IEP that states the student also receives instructional programming for more than 20% of their academic program.

Seats for students with disabilities in this guide reflect the percentage of students with disabilities in each borough.

Every high school participating in high school admissions is expected to welcome and serve students with disabilities in accordance with the recommended programs and services listed on their Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). The IEP team at the high school will review the IEP to ensure that all services and supports a student requires are provided. In some cases, the IEP team may meet to review and revise the IEP to better meet the student’s current needs. For more information, visit schools.nyc.gov and select the Special Education tab.

10 Schools Offering 10th Grade Seats in Admissions

Some high schools have seats set aside specifically for students who are starting tenth grade in fall 2020. If you are a current first-time ninth grade student (not repeating ninth grade), you can apply to a program or programs at these schools.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term seats 10th grade to view your options. To see if a specific school has tenth grade seats, click on + Other Features.

4.4 Seats and Applicants Per Seat: Demand Last Year

A program’s demand is how popular it is. You can learn how many seats each program offered last year as well as how many people applied for these seats in this book or with MySchools. Note that all numbers are from last year.

Your Chances – Demand

The applicants per seat for a program gives a sense of how in-demand or popular the program is— this can help you know your chances of getting an offer from that program.

- If a program has ten or more applicants per seat, it is in high demand. This program is a reach for you or any applicant.
- If a program has four to nine applicants per seat, it is in average demand. Consider more factors to determine if this is a target or likely program for you. Read on, and refer to the graphic in Section 4.1.
- If a program has three or fewer applicants per seat, it is in lower demand. Consider more factors to determine if this is a target or likely program for you. Read on, and refer to the graphic in Section 4.1.

Tip

Consider listing some programs with three or fewer applicants per seat on your application.

4.5 Admissions Priorities

A program's admissions priorities determine the order in which applicants are considered for offers to each program. Students are considered in groups.

- All students in priority group 1 will be considered first.
- Then, if seats are still available, students in priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on.

Admissions priorities are only used if a program has more applicants than available seats.

In This Admissions Guide

If a program uses admissions priorities, it is marked with an asterisk *, as shown here; look up a program's admissions priorities on its MySchools page.

In MySchools

You can find a program's admissions priorities on its page in MySchools. Click on the + Admissions Method tab and look for the Priority Groups section, which lists groups in order. Some programs have only one priority for all applicants—this priority appears as:

1. Open to all NYC residents.

Look at the following example:

Current students at the school are in the first priority group (1). All students from this group who apply will be considered first for offers. Last year, 60% of offers to this program went to continuing eighth-grade students.

Bronx students and residents are in the second priority group (2); they will be considered next for offers. Last year, 40% of offers went to this group of students.

Lastly, all other New York City residents (applicants from all other boroughs) are in the third priority group (3), and will be considered for any remaining seats. Last year, no students from outside of the Bronx received offers to this program.

Diversity in Admissions

Some programs have admissions priorities based on family income, ELL status, or other criteria. High schools across the city are participating in an effort to increase diversity in their programs. The current list of schools participating in diversity pilots is available on our website—learn more at schools.nyc.gov/DiversityAdmissions. Throughout the admissions process, check MySchools for programs' most up-to-date admissions priorities.

Students at Continuing Schools or with Zoned Schools

If your high school application indicates a guaranteed offer to a particular program and you would like to continue at that school, place this program on the application in your order of preference—you do not have to list it first to keep your guarantee. You will receive an offer to this program if you do not receive an offer to a program listed higher on the application. This guarantee would be your continuing school if you attend one, or your zoned school if you have one and the admissions method is zoned guarantee.

Your Chances - Priority

The higher your priority group is for a program (1 is highest), the higher the chance you will get an offer. However, even if you are in the first priority group for a program, it also depends on other factors (in particular the program's demand—see Section 4.4—and its admissions method—see Section 4.6) whether or not that program is reach, target, or likely for you.

Tip

Consider applying to at least a few programs where you are in the first priority group—this could increase your chances of getting an offer to a program from your application.

ACTIVITY

Understand Admissions Priorities

Chambers Street High School is a continuing school with grades 6-12.

The STEM program at this school has the following admissions priorities:

1. Priority to continuing 8th grade students
2. Then to Bronx students or residents
3. Then to New York City residents

Help the three students below think about their chances of getting an offer to this program.

| Learn About These Students  | Richard | Carmen | Julia  |
|---|---------|--------|--------|

| Is the student a current eighth grade student at Chambers Street High School? | No      | Yes    | No     |

Answer these questions:

1. Which student is in the first priority group? _____
Why? _____
2. Which student is in the second priority group? _____
Why? _____
3. Which student is in the third priority group? _____
Why? _____

Answers:
1. Carmen, because she is a continuing eighth grade student.
2. Richard, because he is not a continuing eighth grade student but lives and goes to school in the Bronx.
3. Julia, because she is not a continuing eighth grade student and does not live or go to school in the Bronx.

4.6 Admissions Methods

Admissions methods are the ways programs make offers to students. Admissions methods also describe what you need to do to be considered for a program. In most cases, all you have to do is list the program on your application. A school with multiple programs may have programs with different admissions methods.

These two programs have two different admissions methods.

There are two broader types of admissions methods—those that don't screen applicants and those that do.

Programs That Use Random Selection

As part of the high school admissions process, every applicant is assigned a random number, similar to a lottery. Programs with open and educational option admissions methods use students' randomly assigned numbers, and may also use admissions priorities, to make offers. At many programs, when there are more applicants than seats, students are admitted in order by their randomly assigned numbers. If the program also uses admissions priorities, all applicants from the first priority group for a program are admitted before any students from the second priority group, regardless of their randomly assigned numbers.

Tip For more information on how offers are made to programs using admissions priorities and randomly assigned numbers, watch our video "How Students Get Offers to New York City Public Schools" on our website, schools.nyc.gov/High.

Programs That Rank Applicants

Screened and audition programs evaluate applicants for admission based on the program's selection criteria, and they assign a ranking number to applicants based on that evaluation, starting with the top-ranked applicant as #1. Not all applicants will necessarily be ranked by a program. Ranked applicants receive offers in ranking number order.

If the program also has admissions priorities, offers are made to ranked applicants in priority group order.

A program's selection criteria may include academic records, interviews, auditions, and more to evaluate and rank students.

Tip

For a more detailed look at how offers are made to screened and audition programs, watch our video "Middle and High School Admissions: How Students Get Offers to Screened Schools and the Specialized High Schools" on our website, schools.nyc.gov/High.

4.7 Selection Criteria

Programs that have a screened or audition admissions method, or sometimes an educational option admissions method, evaluate applicants based on specific selection criteria. Look up a program's selection criteria ranges on its MySchools page to learn if that program will evaluate you based on last year's course grades, standardized test scores (ELA and math), and/or attendance and punctuality, or if they require additional assessments such as an interview, essay, portfolio, or on-site assessment (including an audition). The selection criteria that a program uses to evaluate applicants and the way the program explains these criteria is called a rubric. Student information is then applied to the rubric to determine a ranking order. Note that different programs use different selection criteria and have different rubrics.

Your Chances – Selection Criteria

The ranges shown in a screened or audition program's selection criteria refer to the actual ranges of grades, attendance records, and test scores from eighth grade general education students who got offers to this program last year. For example, a program's range for social studies course grades might be 78-100.

The ranges may vary from year to year depending on applicants.

- If your academics are on the high ends of a program's selection criteria ranges, and you are in the first priority group, and the program is in lower demand, this is a likely program for you.
- If your academics are in the middle of a program's selection criteria ranges, and you are in the first priority group, and the program is in lower to average demand, consider this program a target.
- If your academics are on the low end of a program's selection criteria ranges, consider this program a reach.

The academic ranges for students with disabilities who received offers may be different and are often wider than ranges for general education students.

Tip

Reach out to schools directly to learn about their rubrics. Reading through a rubric helps you learn a program's expectations for its students. It also helps you assess your chances of getting an offer.

No Test Scores?

Consistent with New York State law, New York State ELA and math test results will not be the sole, primary, or major factor in admissions decisions. Students without test scores are eligible to apply to programs with academic ranges listed in a program's selection criteria—schools have been instructed to develop policies for evaluating these students.

4.8 Assessments and Auditions

Some programs may require you to complete additional assessments remotely or at the school.

- Audition programs may list their audition dates and times on their MySchools pages. It's a good idea to refer to a school's website to confirm the most up-to-date audition information.
- Screened program assessments may include an interview, portfolio, or on-site essay or exam. All of these programs must list assessments in the Selection Criteria section of their MySchools pages. Find dates, times, and deadlines for these requirements on the schools' websites.

MySchools Tip: Find out if you can schedule any required assessments and auditions in MySchools.

4.9 Common Audition Components

Auditioning for arts programs? A select group of schools have programs that offer common audition components. This means that if you prepare for your audition at one of these programs, you'll be ready to audition at other participating programs, too.

Programs using common audition components are listed here:

Common Audition Components

These are the shared components for each type of arts program. Additional information may be found on a school’s MySchools page.

Visual Arts

Prepare and present a portfolio with 8-15 pieces of original artwork with a diversity of subject matter and use of media. Three-dimensional pieces may be photographed and included in the portfolio.

Complete up to three drawing assignments at the audition. Drawing assignments may include: the human figure and drawing from observation or imagination. Check school websites for examples.

Instrumental Music

You may audition on more than one instrument. Perform a prepared solo selection. Bring your own instrument(s) except piano, tuba, double bass, harp, percussion, and guitar amplifiers, which are provided by the school. Audition includes on-site music tasks (may include singing back melodic patterns, tapping back rhythmic patterns, playing selected scales, or completing a sight reading, music theory, or improvisation task).

Vocal Music

Perform a song that you have prepared and bring the sheet music in your key. Song recommendations may also be listed on school websites. Vocal singers will also be asked to repeat vocal phrases to test rhythm, tonal memory, and basic vocal technique. Ability to incorporate directions from teacher will be considered.

Dance

Participate in both a ballet class and a modern dance class. Applicants must wear ballet shoes and fitted dance attire. Refer to a school's directory page or website to see if a prepared solo is necessary.

Drama

Perform two memorized contrasting monologues (one minute each), for example, dramatic/comedic, classical/contemporary, or theater/film. Choose characters close to your age and decide who your characters are talking to and why. Perform an on-demand dramatic or movement activity (e.g. impromptu reading from provided script or improvisation). Wear attire that allows free movement.

Musical Theater

Prepare to audition in all three areas: drama, dance, and vocal music.

- Drama: Students will perform a one-minute monologue from memory. The monologue should be from a published script. Choose characters close to your age and decide who your characters are talking to and why. Refer to school websites for recommended monologues.
- Dance: Students should be prepared to demonstrate a modern dance or jazz combination prepared by the dance faculty. Please wear jazz shoes, ballet shoes or bare feet and fitted dance attire.
- Vocal Music: Students should be prepared to sing 16 bars of a memorized Broadway song. Choose a song performed by a character close to your age. Please bring sheet music in your key for an accompanist.

Film

Portfolio including two storyboards (each a minimum of ten frames each) depicting a scene from imagination and a 250-word essay describing your interest in filmmaking. At the audition, students will be given a description of a short action and will be asked to draw a storyboard on the spot. Optional: Submit a sample of any film or films you have participated in. Films should be submitted on a USB thumb drive, in .mov or .mp4 format. Describe your role in the making of the film in an accompanying written statement.

4.10 Testing Accommodations

If a student's IEP shows testing accommodations, the accommodations (as long as they do not change what the test or task is measuring) will be provided during school-based screening activities, auditions, and SHSAT administration. Accommodations that are requested only admissions-related tests and auditions are not allowed. Students must demonstrate a documented history of needing and using testing accommodations. Learn more on our website at schools.nyc.gov—select the Special Education tab and click on Testing Accommodations.

Choose programs of interest from the pages of this book or from MySchools. Using the strategies in this chapter, determine your chances of getting an offer to each one—reach, target, or likely.

5.0 GO TO EVENTS AND VISIT SCHOOLS

Over the summer, start creating a calendar to keep track of your admissions dates and deadlines. Note the dates and times of high school fairs, open houses, auditions, and appointments for programs that require interviews or onsite assessments.

5.1 High School Fairs

Attend the high school fairs on September 21-22 and/or October 5-6. At these events, you can meet with representatives from different schools on the same day, in the same place. Visit schools.nyc.gov/High for the latest news on dates, times, and locations for each borough's fair.

5.2 School Visits

Visiting a school is the best way to see if it might be a good place for you. It's also a helpful way to test the commute and see how long the trip is from home. Contact schools directly to find out if they have special events, open house schedules, or student-guided tours. You can find specific schools' open house or information session dates on our website at schools.nyc.gov/High.

Tip

When visiting schools, always ask questions—use the activity in this section as a guide. On sign-in sheets at events, write your contact information clearly.

ACTIVITY

Ask Questions at High School Events

When you speak with a school representative at a fair or open house, try to ask one question from each box. Create your own questions to learn more about a school.

Your Questions:

|                              |   |  |

| Ninth Grade                  | What time do students usually finish their clubs and activities?How does your school communicate with new students the summer before ninth grade?                       |  |
| Courses                      | What are your most popular classes?What language courses do you offer?What makes your school's classes special?   |  |

6.0 APPLY TO HIGH SCHOOL

Apply to high school by Monday, December 2, 2019. Your personalized high school application will be available in the early fall; you can access it online with MySchools or through your school counselor. Here's how to apply:

1 Discuss your options with your parent(s)/guardian(s). Save or list programs of interest.

2 Make an appointment with your school counselor to talk about and review your application choices before you apply!

Apply to high school one of three ways by the December 2 deadline:

- 3
- Online with MySchools (MySchools.nyc.gov)
During the application period, this option will be available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, in Arabic, Bengali/Bangla, Chinese, English, French, Haitian Creole, Korean, Russian, Spanish, and Urdu. Don't forget to click the  button!
  - Through your school counselor
Speak to your counselor this fall about submitting your high school application through the school.
  - In person at a Family Welcome Center
Find locations and hours at schools.nyc.gov/WelcomeCenters. You can apply in person in over 200 languages. If you speak a language other than English, ask for an interpreter.

For the most up-to-date information on how to apply, visit schools.nyc.gov/High or ask your school counselor.

7.0 GET YOUR HIGH SCHOOL OFFER

7.1 Round 1

Your high school offer letter will become available in MySchools in March; it will also be mailed to your home address. This letter will include your high school offer. This offer may be to a program from the high school application process, and/or to one of the testing specialized high schools, and/or to one or more studios at LaGuardia. Your letter will also include a SHSAT score if you took the SHSAT, and/or information about your LaGuardia High School audition if you auditioned.

7.2 Round 2

There is a Round 2 of high school admissions. Apply in Round 2 if there are programs in Round 2 that you prefer over your Round 1 offer. If you get an offer in Round 2, it replaces your Round 1 offer. If you do not get an offer in Round 2, you will keep your Round 1 offer.

Round 2 takes place in March, and you can only apply to programs that have availability. During the Round 2 application period, you can find Round 2 programs online with MySchools or by requesting a list of available programs from your school counselor. Specialized high schools do not participate in Round 2.

How to apply in Round 2:

- Choose up to 12 programs from MySchools or the Round 2 program list. Add these programs to your application in MySchools, or list them on your paper application. Place programs in your true order of preference, with your first choice at the top as #1.
- Submit your Round 2 application online through MySchools, in person through your school counselor, or in person at a Family Welcome Center.

A Round 2 offer replaces a Round 1 offer—you cannot choose between them. In May, Round 2 results will be shared through MySchools and/or by mail.

7.3 Appeals

In May and only at the end of Round 2, you can appeal your offer due to a hardship. You may be required to provide documentation to support your hardship reason, including any of the following.

- Travel hardship
- Housing hardship
- Medical hardship
- Safety issue
- Gender identity issue
- Data entry error
- Special education classification change
- English Language Learner (ELL) program need
- Accessibility need

You should not submit an appeal to be considered again for a program you applied to in Round 1 or Round 2. If necessary, speak with your school counselor for more information on this process.

7.4 If You Move During the Admissions Process

- If you are new to New York City, you can apply to high school by visiting a Family Welcome Center. Find locations in the inside back cover of this guide. Also visit schools.nyc.gov/NewStudents to learn how to enroll and what documents you need.
- If you move out of New York City during the admissions process, you will not receive an offer to a New York City public school or receive specialized high schools results. For more information about specialized high school offers, please review the Specialized High Schools Student Handbook found here, schools.nyc.gov/SHS.
- If you move from a public school to a private school during the admissions process, please visit a Family Welcome Center to receive a private school student identification number. Make sure that the Family Welcome Center staff transfers your public school information, such as your high school application choices, to your new private school identification number.
- If you move to a public school from a private school, please make sure that school staff at your new public school transfer your information, such as your high school application choices, to your new public school student identification number.

Tip

Test your knowledge of high school admissions by taking the quiz on the following page.
