WE WELCOME AND SERVE ALL STUDENTS

STUDENTS LEARNING ENGLISH

schools.nyc.gov/ELL

We speak your language! The DOE provides information in English, Arabic, Bangla, Chinese, French, Haitian Creole, Korean, Russian, Spanish, and Urdu, and we offer interpretation services in more than 200 languages.

• An English Language Learner (ELL) is a student who speaks or understands a language other than English and requires support in order to become proficient in the English language.

• NYC schools offer three program options for English Language Learners: English as a New Language (ENL), Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE), and Dual Language (DL). All schools, at a minimum, offer ENL. Learn more about each program option, the ELL identification process, and your rights on our website.

• 3-K and Pre-K for All programs also support Emergent Multilingual Learners (EMLs), children who speak a home language other than English.

IMMIGRANT FAMILIES

schools.nyc.gov/SupportingImmigrantFamilies

Every child in New York City has a right to a public school education, regardless of immigration status. By law, children may not be asked to present documentation of immigration status, nor can they be denied admission, registration, or enrollment in a DOE public school based on immigration status. DOE employees will not ask about a family’s status, and if they do learn about immigration status, they must keep it confidential. Public schools are at the center of our democracy and remain safe places for all students, families, and educators. Please note that early childhood Extended Day and Year seats are funded by the Federal Child Care and Development Block Grant, which requires families to provide proof that their child is a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, lawful permanent resident, or refugee to be eligible. Families do not need to provide proof of citizenship or immigration status to enroll in any Full Day or HeadStart seats at a 3-K or pre-K program.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

schools.nyc.gov/SpecialEducation

Every school is expected to welcome and serve students with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) in accordance with the recommended programs and services on their IEPs. All school programs admit students with and without IEPs. Testing accommodations are provided according to students’ IEPs or 504 plans. For students whose IEP recommends a District 75 program, learn more on our website.
STUDENTS WITH ACCESSIBILITY NEEDS

Schools.nyc.gov/BuildingAccessibility

The NYC Department of Education is committed to providing any student with accessibility needs an offer to a school program that allows that student to access all relevant programs and services. School buildings are categorized as fully accessible, partially accessible, or not accessible. For the most up-to-date information about accessibility, check our website and contact schools directly.

STUDENTS IN TEMPORARY HOUSING

Schools.nyc.gov/STH

Students in temporary housing enrolled in a DOE school may apply to any school programs, even if they move to a temporary residence outside of NYC. They are not required to submit documentation (including address, proof of age, or immunization records) in order to participate in an admissions process and accept their offer.

LGBTQ STUDENTS

Schools.nyc.gov/LGBTQ

All of our schools welcome and support lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer or questioning students, families, and staff. You can apply to single-gender programs based on your gender identity, regardless of sex assigned at birth. If you have a transgender or gender expansive child who is interested in a single-gender school, ask their school counselor to assist in the application process.
1.2
YOUR SCHOOL DISTRICT

There are 32 school districts in New York City. On the facing page, a map shows these district locations across the five boroughs.

- For 3-K, pre-K, kindergarten, and middle school admissions, your child may have priority to attend schools in the district where they live, including their zoned school(s). Zoned schools give priority to applicants who live in a specific area around that school, known as its zone. Most elementary and middle school students have zoned schools; however, not all elementary schools offer 3-K or pre-K.

Find your child’s school district and learn if they have zoned schools:

1. Visit schoolschoolsearch.schoons.nyc or call 311
2. Enter or provide your home address
3. Complete the following information for each child in your family:

Child #1. My child, ____________________________, lives in District _______ and
   o has a zoned school.
   o does not have a zoned school.
   Their zoned school is ________________________________.

Child #2. My child, ____________________________, lives in District _______ and
   o has a zoned school.
   o does not have a zoned school.
   Their zoned school is ________________________________.

Child #3. My child, ____________________________, lives in District _______ and
   o has a zoned school.
   o does not have a zoned school.
   Their zoned school is ________________________________.
YOUR LOCAL FAMILY WELCOME CENTER

Family Welcome Centers are located in each borough. Our staff is here to support students and families with enrollment and admissions, including help with any applications. Please check schools.nyc.gov/FWC before contacting a Family Welcome Center; our website offers the most up-to-date information on our locations, hours, and how to reach us.

Use the map on the next page to identify your district’s Family Welcome Center.

My local Family Welcome Center is _________________________________.

1.4
YOUR SCHOOL COUNSELOR

If your child is applying to middle or high school, their current school counselor is your best partner in the admissions process! Make an appointment with a school counselor to discuss your child’s application options. You can also get help accessing or using your MySchools account, submitting your application, getting your offer, and managing waitlists.

Need a school now? Visit schools.nyc.gov/NewStudents or call 718-935-2009 to learn what to do.
1.5 REGISTRATION CHECKLIST

When you register for your child’s new program or school, be sure to provide the following:

- Proof of your child’s age (child’s birth certificate, passport, or record of baptism),
- Your child’s immunization records (if available),
- Your child’s latest report card/transcript (if available), and
- Two (2) official documents verifying proof of address. For examples of acceptable documents, visit schools.nyc.gov/NewStudents or call 311.

Please note that Extended Day and Year 3-K and pre-K programs may require additional documents. Learn more at nyc.gov/3K or nyc.gov/PreK.

NOTE FOR STUDENTS IN TEMPORARY HOUSING

Students in temporary housing, as defined by McKinney-Vento, are not required to submit documentation (including proof of address, date of birth, and immunization) in order to enroll. Schools must provisionally register the student and then work with the Students in Temporary Housing DOE contact to obtain documentation.

IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

New York State Public Health Law requires students to get certain vaccines in order to attend child care or school. Learn more about specific requirements for children under five, as well as information about medical exemptions, at schools.nyc.gov/Immunization. As of June 13, 2019, NY State no longer allows religious exemptions from mandated vaccinations.

1.6 TRANSPORTATION INFORMATION

ELIGIBILITY FOR BUS SERVICE AND METROCARDS

schools.nyc.gov/BusEligibility

Enrollment in kindergarten to eighth grade in a public elementary or middle school does not guarantee school bus service. Transportation options (including stop-to-school busing or MetroCards) available for your child can be found on our website. Note that as students move to third grade and seventh grade, they may no longer be eligible for stop-to-school busing.

Students of any age whose IEP recommends curb-to-school bus service will receive bus service to and from the school they attend. Parents who feel this service may be appropriate for their child should request it and any transportation accommodations by contacting their IEP team.

TIP MySchools is available to use in 10 languages. Select your language in the dropdown menu on the top of the page.
2.1 HOW TO SET UP YOUR MYSCHOOLS ACCOUNT

1 CREATE OR ACCESS YOUR ACCOUNT

For 3-K, Pre-K, or Kindergarten
You can create your MySchools account at any time!

Go to Myschools.nyc, click on “Get Started,” and follow the on-screen instructions. Then check your email account for a message from MySchools. Open this email and click the link to confirm your email address and access your account.

For Middle or High School
You can create or access your MySchools account when you get your child’s welcome letter, shortly before the application opens. Your welcome letter includes:

- Information on how to set up your account
- A unique account creation code to add your child to your new or existing MySchools account
- Public DOE and charter school students will receive welcome letters by mail; you can also get your letter from a school counselor. Private and parochial school students can ask their school (for high school) or a Family Welcome Center (for middle school) to provide a welcome letter.

ADD YOUR CHILD
Once logged in, you can add your child to the account by clicking “Add a child” on your dashboard.

For 3-K, Pre-K, or Kindergarten
On the next screen, select the option for these grades and click “Next.” If your child is already enrolled in a DOE school and has a 9-digit student ID number (OSIS), you have the option to enter it here.

For Middle or High School
On the next screen, select the option for these grades and click “Next.” Then enter your child’s 9-digit student ID (OSIS) number in the top box and their 6-letter unique account creation code in the bottom box—do not share this code with anyone and keep it in a safe place. Please note that this is a different code than your NYCSA code.

If you have more than one child applying this year, you will need to add each child to your account.
CHECK YOUR DASHBOARD
Once you see confirmation that your child was added to your account, they will be listed on your MySchools dashboard whenever you log in.

For 3-K, Pre-K, or Kindergarten
Be sure to review your child’s profile and verify that everything looks correct. If anything looks wrong, click the “Edit Profile” button to make updates.

For Middle or High School
Check your child’s profile and verify that everything looks correct. If anything looks wrong, please speak with your child’s current school or a Family Welcome Center.

Now your personalized MySchools account is all set! When the application opens, you’ll be able to access your personalized application and apply.
HOW TO FIND SCHOOLS AND PROGRAMS

As you start learning about your child’s school or program options, consider what matters most to your family—this might be location, accessibility, size, or other features. When you log in to your MySchools account and access your personalized search, you’ll see a series of prompts that walk you through how to find and learn about schools. Read through these to familiarize yourself with this process. Please note that the location of each feature can vary depending on whether you’re using a computer, phone, or tablet.

When you’re logged in to your account, you will see all the schools and programs your child can apply to as options. When you find a program that interests you, add it to your favorites or directly to your application.

- 3-K, pre-K, and kindergarten applicants can make an account at any time; we recommend logging in before you begin exploring.

- For middle and high school applicants, start exploring programs in the public directory before you get your welcome letter. Here’s how:

  Go to MySchools.nyc to start searching for schools and programs. Scroll down and click “Start browsing.” On the next page, select the directory you want to explore.

  Now you’re in the directory! Here’s how to get started:

  - Type your address here to show a list of schools nearest to you. When you are logged in to your account, you will automatically be able to see which programs are close to your home.

  - Type the name of a specific school or program here to learn more about it.

  - Scroll down the list of schools or early childhood programs. Click a school or program’s name to learn more about it and find contact information.
Use Filters

Use filters to narrow your search. For example, you can filter for schools by location, subway lines, eligibility requirements, and participation in a Diversity in Admissions (DIA) initiative.

Filter options vary by directory. For instance, in the pre-K directory, you can filter for programs with extended hours by selecting “Early Drop-Off Available” or “Late Pick-Up Available” in the Other Features filter. And the high school directory offers more filters so you can narrow your search to schools that offer specific sports, Early College programs, D75 inclusive programs, and more.

Tip: For all grade levels, you can filter for programs that are fully or partially accessible.

Use Search Terms

You can look up information about specific schools or programs by typing their names into the search bar. Or type other key words to find programs that meet your child’s needs and interests. For middle and high school, you can search by activities, such as “dance” or “debate”; courses, such as “computer science” or “AP history”; sports, such as “basketball” or “gymnastics”; and much more.

Keep a List of Your Favorites

- Before the application opens, keep a list of your favorite programs. After the application opens, you can also save them to your Favorites in MySchools by clicking the star next to a program’s name.
2.3 HOW TO APPLY

When you decide where you want to apply, add your top choices from your Favorites to your application. You can also add programs to the application directly, without saving them as Favorites first. Once you’ve added your choices to your application, drag and drop programs into your true order of preference, with your favorite choice as #1, your second choice as #2, and so on.

TIP For families applying to high school, we encourage you to add 12 programs (and no fewer!) to your application to give your child the best opportunity to receive an offer from a program they want to attend.

As you finalize your application, you may receive alerts about any missing information. If you do, review your application thoroughly and ensure it is complete.

Finally, you may be prompted to:

- Answer questions about your child’s accessibility needs
- Add information about a sibling currently attending a school on your application
- Add another child to the same application

Ready to apply? Click the “Submit Application” button. When you see the confetti, this means we’ve received your application! You’ll also get a receipt, which includes a copy of your application choices, by email.

Want to make changes to your application? You can make updates and resubmit it any time until the deadline. Please note that we’ll only use your last submission when we process your application.
2.4 HOW TO GET YOUR OFFER

Results and Offers

You can also use MySchools to access your child’s results or offer letter. This letter tells you which school or program your child has an offer to (if applicable), where your child is waitlisted (if applicable), and what to do next. To view your child’s results or offer information, go to your Dashboard and click “View Results & Waitlists.” You’ll also be able to download the offer letter for your records. For processes that require you to accept your offer (3-K, pre-K, and kindergarten), you can do this, too, in MySchools.

Waitlists

If seats at a program become available after offers are made, that program can use its waitlist to make waitlist offers.

- Your child is automatically on the waitlist for any program that you placed higher on your child’s application than the program where they got an offer.
- After the application deadline (for 3-K, pre-K, or kindergarten) or after offers are released (for middle or high school), you have the option to add your child to additional programs’ waitlists. A school or program will contact you directly if they are able to make your child a waitlist offer. If you have a MySchools account, you will also receive an email.

In your MySchools account, you can also see which waitlists you are on, check your position on each waitlist, and accept or decline a waitlist offer if you receive one.
Early Childhood Education

TIP Watch our admissions videos at nyc.gov/3K and nyc.gov/PreK! We’ll walk you through how to explore programs, create a MySchools account, and apply.

4.1 WHO CAN APPLY?

3-K FOR ALL
Apply to 3-K during the calendar year your child turns three. In the winter/spring of 2023, all NYC families with children born in 2020 can apply to free, full-day, high-quality 3-K for All programs, to enter a program in September 2023. 3-K for All programs are now offered in all 32 school districts.

- Children have priority to attend 3-K for All programs in the school district where they live, but families from any district are welcome to apply to programs across the city.
- Due to demand, 3-K for All offers are not guaranteed for all applicants.

PRE-K FOR ALL
Apply to pre-K during the calendar year your child turns four. In the winter/spring of 2023, all NYC families with children born in 2019 can apply to free, full-day, high-quality Pre-K for All programs, to enter a program in September 2023.

- Families with children currently attending a three-year-old program, including 3-K for All, at a school or center that offers Pre-K for All must still apply to pre-K to secure your placement in that pre-K program.
- There is a pre-K seat for every four-year-old child in New York City.

TIP Some programs offer additional free or low-cost 3-K and pre-K seats for families who qualify based on income and needs—learn more in Section 4.2.

4.2 EXPLORE PROGRAMS
Before the application period opens, you can use MySchools to explore your child’s early childhood program options—learn how in Section 2.0. Visit schools’ and programs’ websites or contact them directly to learn about resources or events for prospective families.
SEAT TYPES
There are three types of 3-K/pre-K seats. A single program may offer one, two, or all three seat types, which vary mostly in terms of hours and eligibility requirements.

PROGRAM SETTINGS
3-K and pre-K programs are located in a variety of settings. Each setting type offers its own advantages, but all settings provide safe learning environments with opportunities to participate in engaging activities and interact with other children and teaching staff. Programs in all settings are held to the same DOE quality standards and serve all students. You can choose to apply to programs in any or all of these settings, depending on what’s best for your family.

Early Education Centers (NYCEECs)
Community-based organizations selected through a rigorous evaluation process that partner with the DOE to provide 3-K and pre-K

Consider This Option If...
- Your child currently attends a program at the center
- Your child has a sibling also attending a program at the center
- You’d like to send your child to a program run by an organization with strong ties to your neighborhood and/or community
- You’re interested in options located close to where you work or go to school, not just where your family lives
- Your family receives social services from the organization that runs the center
- You need early drop off or after school options for your child—many programs offer early dropoff and/or late pickup, and some programs also offer Extended Day and Year and/or Head Start seats.

DOE public elementary schools (district schools)
Some offer 3-K and pre-K programs

Consider This Option If...
- Your child currently attends the school
- You have an older child already attending the school
- You want your child to attend a program in an elementary school setting

Pre-K Centers
Run by DOE staff, only offer grades before kindergarten

Consider This Option If...
- Your child currently attends the Pre-K Center
- You want your child to attend a program in a setting with only other young children
Home-Based/ Family Child Care (FCC) programs
Offer 3-K only (not pre-K) in a home setting by a licensed, qualified childcare provider

Consider This Option If…
• Your child already attends this program and has relationships with caregivers
• You’d like your child to learn in a mixed-age setting, which could include siblings, with children six weeks to three years old
• You’d prefer your child to attend 3-K in a more familiar setting to help transition to center- or school-based pre-K next year
• You need extended care for your child
• You find that home-based programs best reflect your community’s language/culture

DUAL LANGUAGE PROGRAMS AND LANGUAGE SUPPORTS
Some pre-K options also offer a Dual Language program, where students are taught in two languages: English and a target language. Learn more about specific Dual Language programs in MySchools and by contacting programs directly. Some 3-K and pre-K options (primarily NYCEECs) offer language supports to families whose home language is a language other than English. Language supports may include one or more of the following:
• A staff member who is fluent in the target language and is available to support families
• Interpretation services at family meetings
• Translated communications in the target language
• Teaching staff who support the continued development of both English and the target language during instruction

Dual Language programs and pre-K programs offering language supports give priority to students based on their home language. For more information about Dual Language programs or programs with language supports, email prekduallanguage@schools.nyc.gov or call 311.

Learn about up-to-date income eligibility requirements for 3-K and pre-K Extended Day and Year HeadStart programs at nyc.gov/3K and nyc.gov/preK.

HALF-DAY AND CHARTER SCHOOL PRE-K PROGRAMS
You can also find half-day and charter school pre-K programs in MySchools. However, these programs have separate pre-K admissions processes—this means you cannot add half-day or charter school programs to your child’s pre-K application. Call these programs directly to get more information and learn how to apply. Charter schools are free public schools that operate independently from the DOE. Any child eligible for admission to a Pre-K for All program is eligible for admission to a charter school. For more information, visit schools.nyc.gov/Charters or call 212-374-5419.
LEARN HOW CHILDREN GET OFFERS

How can you know your child’s chances of getting an offer to a specific program? It helps to start by learning how offers are made. Children get 3-K and pre-K offers based on four key factors:

YOUR APPLICATION CHOICES
The choices you add to your child’s application AND the order you place them in matter! Add up to 12 programs to your application in your true order of preference, with your first choice as #1. There is no better strategy. Your child will be considered for admission to your first-choice program first. If that program cannot make your child an offer, they will be considered for your second-choice program as if it were your first choice, and so on. The DOE will try to make you an offer to the highest possible choice on your application, depending on the factors below.

EACH PROGRAM’S SEAT AVAILABILITY
Each program has a certain number of available seats. If a program has more applicants than seats, admissions priorities are used to make offers.

EACH PROGRAM’S ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES
Different groups of applicants have priority to attend different programs. All applicants in a program’s top priority group are considered for offers first. Then, if seats are still available, applicants in that program’s second priority group are considered next, and so on. Your priority to a program will not be affected by where you rank it on your application.

RANDOMLY ASSIGNED NUMBERS
Each applicant is assigned a random number as part of the admissions process. If a program has fewer available seats than applicants within a priority group, these random numbers are used to determine the order in which students get offers.

TIP Turn to the inside back cover to see an example of how applicants get an offer to a program.

WHY ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES MATTER
Your child has a better chance of getting into some programs than others. When there are more applicants than available seats, a program can’t make offers to all applicants. In these cases, offers are made based on which groups of children have the highest admissions priority to attend that program.

- All applicants in priority group 1 are considered first.
• Then, if seats are available, applicants in priority group 2 are considered next, and so on.
• Program demand varies. Some programs admit applicants from most or all priority groups, while others only admit applicants from their first priority group.

TIP Look up any program’s admissions priorities on its MySchools page. Based on this, you can determine your child’s priority group for that program and learn which groups of students got offers last year. This information can help you know your child’s chances of getting an offer to a particular program.

ADMISSIONS PRIORITY TYPES

Current-Student Priority
Your child has a priority to stay at their current program or school, if applicable. If you would like your child to continue attending, be sure to list the program on your application and indicate that your child is a current student.

Sibling Priority
If your child’s sibling attends a school or program that you list on your application, they have a higher chance of getting an offer to that program.

• A sibling is defined as an applicant’s brother or sister, including half-brothers, half-sisters, step-brothers, step-sisters, foster brothers, and foster sisters who live in the same household and are currently registered or enrolled at that school, and who will be enrolled at that school in September 2023. This includes students enrolled in District 75 programs in the same school building.
• If you also have any older children applying to pre-K or kindergarten for fall 2023 and you have not yet received that child’s offer, make sure to include each sibling’s information and the name of the school you would like them to attend together. Your younger child will receive sibling priority for 3-K or pre-K at the school where your older child gets their offer if you have listed that school’s 3-K or pre-K program on your younger child’s application and if that school offers 3-K or pre-K.

District Priority
Your school district (1-32) is determined by your home address. Your child has a priority to attend programs at DOE public schools and Pre-K Centers in the school district where your family lives.

Zoned Priority
• Most families in NYC have a zoned elementary school. This means that children who live in the zone, or area around a school, have priority to attend that school. If you have a zoned DOE public school that offers a 3-K or pre-K program, your child has a priority to attend that program.
• Please note that families living in Districts 1, 7, and 23 do not have a zoned school—children living in these districts have priority to attend all schools in the district.

TIP You can learn if your child has a zoned school and find your school district at schoolsearch.schools.nyc or by calling 311.

4.4

APPLY TO 3-K OR PRE-K

Mark your calendar! The (circle one) 3-K/pre-K application deadline is ___/___/___.

When the application period opens, access your child’s application in your MySchools account. You can add up to 12 program choices to this application.

- List your application choices in your true order of preference, with your first-choice program at the top as #1. Programs will never know if they are your first or twelfth choice.
- Some pre-K providers offer more than one program at a site location, so be sure to add the correct program—such as a Dual Language program—to your application.
- Only a child’s primary custodial parent or guardian can submit their application.
- All applications received by the deadline are treated the same. There is no advantage to applying early. You can make changes to your application and resubmit any time before the deadline.
HOW TO APPLY

Apply one of three ways:

Online with MySchools. Recommended! During the application period, this option is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Apply online in English, Arabic, Bangla, Chinese, Haitian Creole, French, Korean, Russian, Spanish, or Urdu. Don’t forget to click the Submit Application button. When you see the confetti, you’ll know we’ve received your child’s application!

By phone at 718-935-2009. We’re available Monday through Friday from 8am to 6pm.

Through a Family Welcome Center. Get the most up-to-date information on hours and locations at schools.nyc.gov/FWC.

Applying by phone or through a Family Welcome Center? Interpretation services are available in more than 200 languages: you can ask questions and request information about admissions in your language.

For Families with Multiple Children Applying to 3-K or Pre-K

If you want your children to attend the same program, you can apply for them at the same time with your MySchools account. After adding all children, make sure to list which children are multiples (such as twins) when submitting your application.

GET YOUR RESULTS

3-K and pre-K offers are made in the spring. When offers are available, families who applied can access your results in MySchools; you can also opt to receive this letter by mail.

For 3-K applicants Your letter may include an offer to a 3-K program. Due to demand, we may not be able to make offers to all 3-K applicants.

For pre-K applicants Your letter will include an offer to a pre-K program.

My child’s offer is ___________.

The deadline to accept this offer is __/__/____ (fill in the blanks).
NEXT STEPS

• Accept your child’s offer by the deadline. This secures your child’s seat at the program. You can accept online with your MySchools account or by contacting the program directly. We encourage you to accept your child’s offer even if you are hoping for a waitlist offer—doing so now will not affect your chances of receiving a waitlist offer later.

• Register. Ask your child’s program about next steps and set up a time to register. Use the Registration Checklist in Section 1.5 to learn what you need to provide, as well as immunization requirements.

WAITLISTS

Programs use waitlists to fill any open seats after offers are made. Your 3-K or pre-K results will include a list of any programs where your child is automatically on the waitlist.

• Your child is automatically on the waitlist for any program that you ranked higher on your child’s application than the program where they got an offer.
  • If your child received an offer to your first-choice program, they are not automatically on any waitlists.
  • If your child did not receive a 3-K offer, or if they received a 3-K or pre-K offer to a program you didn’t list on their application, then your child is automatically on the waitlist for every program on their application.

• After the application deadline (including after you receive your child’s results), you can add your child to additional programs’ waitlists. This is optional, and there is no limit to the number of waitlists you can be on.

• After 3-K or pre-K results are available, you can use your MySchools account to check your child’s position on waitlists and to accept or decline any waitlist offers.

• A program will contact you directly if they are able to offer your child a seat from their waitlist. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Waitlists.

5.1 WHO CAN APPLY?

All New York City families with children born in 2018 can apply to kindergarten programs this school year. All children of this age are guaranteed a kindergarten seat in a public school in fall 2023. This includes children currently attending pre-K at NYC Early Education Centers (NYCEECs), DOE public schools (district schools), Pre-K Centers, charter schools, and private or parochial schools, as well as children who will be starting school for the first time.

TIP Some elementary schools offer Pre-K for All programs; if your child currently attends a pre-K program at a school where you’d like them to stay for elementary school, you still need to apply to kindergarten!

5.2 EXPLORE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

There are two types of schools that you can add to your child’s kindergarten application.

Zoned Schools

Most NYC families have a zoned elementary school. If you have one this means you live in a designated area around a specific school and your children have priority to attend it. Most children attend their zoned elementary school, and most zoned schools make kindergarten offers to all students in the area. Some schools also have room to make offers to children outside of their zone.

TIP If you’d like your child to attend their zoned school, add it to their application. If it’s not your first-choice school, you don’t have to place it first: whether you place your zoned school as your first or twelfth choice, your child will have the same priority to attend it.

Non-Zoned Schools

Non-zoned schools do not have a zone. Families throughout the district or borough have priority to attend them. Most non-zoned schools give priority to students who have older siblings attending that same school, who are current pre-K students at the school, or who live in the district.

Three NYC school districts—Districts 1, 7, and 23—have only non-zoned schools. This means all students living in one of these districts have priority to attend all schools in their district.
DUAL LANGUAGE PROGRAMS
Some elementary schools also offer Dual Language programs. These programs teach students in both English and another language. The goal of these programs is for students to be able to read, write, and speak in both languages. To apply to a Dual Language program, add it to your child’s application. Please note that two programs at the same school count as two separate choices on your child’s application.

MAGNET SCHOOLS
Some elementary schools, known as magnet schools, provide a school-wide curriculum designed around a specific theme. These schools aim to attract a diverse pool of applicants and historically have accommodated students from outside their zone or district. While some schools may have the word “magnet” in their school’s name, only a school that currently gets Magnet Schools Assistance Program (MSAP) funding will be labeled as a “magnet school” on its MySchools.nyc directory page.

SPECIAL MUSIC SCHOOL
There is one elementary school that requires an audition as part of its admissions process. If you add Special Music School to your child’s application, you will be contacted and given details regarding auditions. For more information please visit kaufmanmusiccenter.org/sms.

TIP Learn about Gifted & Talented (G&T) admissions in Section 5.6.

CHARTER SCHOOLS
Charter schools are free public schools that operate independently from the Department of Education and are open to all New York City students. All students eligible to apply to DOE public schools are also eligible to apply to charter schools. Charter schools have a separate admissions process. If you would like to apply to kindergarten at a charter elementary school, please contact that school directly to find out how to apply. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Charters.
Children receive kindergarten offers based on four key factors:

YOUR APPLICATION CHOICES

The kindergarten programs you choose for your child’s application AND the order in which you place them matter! Add up to 12 choices to the application in your true order of preference, with your favorite at the top as #1. Your child will get an offer to your highest possible choice considering the factors listed below. In some cases, your child may receive an offer to a school that you did not list on their application.

EACH PROGRAM’S SEAT AVAILABILITY

Kindergarten programs vary in size and demand. Each kindergarten program has a certain number of available seats. If a program has more applicants than seats, we will not be able to make offers to every applicant. Offers will then be made based on admissions priorities and randomly assigned numbers.

EACH PROGRAM’S ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

Your child has a better chance of getting an offer from some kindergarten programs than others. Kindergarten programs give admissions priorities to specific groups of applicants before others, such as to applicants who have siblings at the school. A program’s admissions priorities determine the order it considers specific groups of applicants for offers. All applicants in a program’s priority group 1 will be considered first for offers. Then, if seats are still available, students in that program’s priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on.

RANDOMLY ASSIGNED NUMBERS

Each kindergarten applicant is also assigned a random number. If a program has fewer available seats than applicants within a priority group, these random numbers determine the order in which students get offers.

TIP Turn to the inside back cover to see an example!
KNOW YOUR CHANCES

In MySchools, you can learn about a school’s admissions priorities and who got offers last year. This information can help you know your child’s chances of getting an offer to a particular school.

- Check which admissions priority group your child is in for each program of interest. Your child will be in different priority groups for different programs.
- The higher priority your child has to attend a school, the higher the chance that your child will get an offer to that school.
- If a school made offers to a specific group of students in 2022, they may be able to make offers to this group again.

COMMON ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

Zoned Priority
A zoned school gives an admissions priority to students who live in that school’s zone over students who live outside of the zone.

Sibling Priority
Elementary schools offer an admissions priority to applicants whose siblings attend the same school. If your child has an older sibling at a school that you’ve added to their application, they may have a higher chance of getting an offer from that school.

- Provide sibling information when you apply to ensure that your child gets sibling priority.
- Who counts as a sibling? For admissions, a sibling is defined as an applicant’s brother or sister, including half-brothers, half-sisters, stepbrothers, stepsisters, foster brothers, and foster sisters who live in the same household and are currently registered or enrolled at that school in kindergarten through grade 12, and who will be enrolled at that school in any grade level between kindergarten and grade 12 in September 2023. This includes students enrolled in District 75 programs in the same school building.

Current Pre-K Student Priority
If your child is currently enrolled in pre-K at a DOE public elementary school, they will have an admissions priority to attend kindergarten at that school. Remember that even if you want your child to continue at this school, you still need to apply to kindergarten. Please note that not all elementary schools have pre-K.

District Priority
Most elementary schools give an admissions priority to students who live in their school’s district over students who live in other districts.
ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

For Zoned Schools
All zoned elementary schools make offers to students in the following order:

1. Students who live in the zone and have a sibling at the school
2. Other students who live in the zone

If space allows, students living outside the zone may also be admitted, in the following order:

3. Students with a sibling at the school who live in the district
4. Students with a sibling at the school who live outside the district
5. Students who live in the district and are currently enrolled at the school for pre-K
6. Students who live outside the district and are currently enrolled at the school for pre-K
7. Other students who live in the district
8. Other students who live outside the district

For Non-Zoned Schools
Different non-zoned schools have different admissions priorities, but most non-zoned schools give an admissions priority to students who live in the same district as the school.

- You can look up any school’s admissions priorities in MySchools and determine which priority group your child is in for that school.
- Some districts—such as Districts 1, 7, and 23—have district-specific admissions priorities. Learn more on each school’s MySchools page.

5.4 APPLY TO KINDERGARTEN

Mark your calendar! The kindergarten application deadline is ___/___/___ (fill in the blanks).

When the kindergarten application period opens, you can access your child’s application in your MySchools account. You will be able to add up to 12 choices to your child’s application. Remember to list your first-choice program as #1! Regardless of when you apply, all kindergarten applications received by the deadline are treated the same. There is no advantage to applying early.

If you have more than one child applying to kindergarten and want your children to attend the same school, you will have the option to apply for both or all children at the same time.
HOW TO APPLY

TIP You can make changes to your application any time before the deadline.

5.5 GET YOUR OFFER

In the spring, you will get your child’s kindergarten offer letter. You can access this letter in your MySchools account; you can also opt to receive this letter by mail. This letter tells you where your child will go to kindergarten, what to do next, and where your child is waitlisted, if applicable.

YOUR OFFER
My child’s kindergarten offer is to ____________________________, and the deadline to accept this offer is ___/___/___ (fill in the blanks).

NEXT STEPS

• Accept your child’s offer by the deadline provided in their offer letter. This secures your child’s kindergarten seat at their school. You can accept your offer online through MySchools or by contacting the school directly. We encourage you to accept your child’s offer even if you are hoping for a waitlist or Gifted & Talented (G&T) offer. Accepting this offer now will not affect your chances of receiving a waitlist or G&T offer later!

• Register your child for kindergarten. Ask your child’s school about next steps and set up a time to register. Use the Registration Checklist in Section 1.5 to learn what you need to provide to accept your offer.
WAITLISTS
A kindergarten program’s waitlist is a list of applicants who applied to that program but did not receive an offer to it. If a seat becomes available at that program after offers go out, the elementary school can make an offer to the first student on the waitlist.

- Your child is automatically on the waitlist for any kindergarten program that you listed higher on your child’s application than the program where they got an offer.
- After the application deadline (including after you receive your child’s results), you can add your child to additional programs’ waitlists. This is optional.
- After kindergarten results are available, you can use your MySchools account to check your child’s position on waitlists and to accept or decline any waitlist offers.
- A school will contact you directly if they are able to offer your child a seat from their waitlist. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Waitlists.

TIP Families who miss the application deadline can still add their children to waitlists. All five-year-old children are guaranteed an elementary school placement. However, submitting a kindergarten application by the deadline is the best way to get an offer to a school of your choice.

5.6 GIFTED AND TALENTED
Gifted & Talented (G&T) programs offer accelerated instruction to eligible elementary school students. For the most up to date information on G&T admissions, including who can apply, visit schools.nyc.gov/GT.

GET YOUR CHILD’S OFFER

- Your offer letter will include your child’s middle school offer, information about waitlists, and any next steps. My child’s middle school offer is to ________________________________.
6.1 WHO CAN APPLY?

NYC students apply to DOE public middle school by submitting a middle school application during fifth grade or their last year of elementary school, if different.*

To apply, your child must be both

1. A NYC resident and
2. A current fifth grade student or, if their elementary school ends in sixth grade, a current sixth grade student.

* Current fourth grade students who live or go to school in District 3 can apply to the Center School (03M243). Current fourth grade students who live or go to school in Queens can apply to Louis Armstrong Middle School (30Q227). All current sixth grade students can apply to Baccalaureate School for Global Education (30Q580).

6.2 EXPLORE MIDDLE SCHOOLS

Some middle schools have more than one program, such as a general education program and a Dual Language Spanish program. If you’re interested in applying to more than one program at the same school, each program counts as a separate choice on your child’s application. You can apply to up to 12 programs.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

As you explore your child’s middle school options, it’s important to understand which programs they are eligible to apply to and, if they get an offer, to attend. When you are logged in to MySchools, you will see as options all the programs that your child is eligible to attend, and these are the programs you can add to their application. Listed on its MySchools page, a program’s Eligibility Requirements tell you who can apply to it. For instance, if a program’s eligibility is “Open to students and residents of District 27,” this means that only students who live or attend public elementary schools in District 27 can apply. Students who live and attend schools in other districts are not eligible to apply to that program, and will not be able to add it to their application.

Most programs have one of three eligibility types: district, boroughwide, or citywide.

DISTRICT PROGRAMS Open to students and residents of the district

Your child can apply to programs that are located in the district where your family is zoned for middle school and, if different, in the district where your child attends public elementary school. Sometimes families are zoned for middle school in a different district than where they are zoned for elementary school. In these cases, the middle school’s zone determines your child’s eligibility.
Some district programs are open to all students who live or go to school in that district; other programs have more specific eligibility requirements. If a program’s eligibility is “Open to students who live in the zone,” this means it’s only open to applicants who live in the smaller geographic zone around that school (rather than the larger district).

BOROUGHWIDE PROGRAMS Open to students and residents of the borough
These programs are open to all students who live or currently attend elementary school in a particular borough. All students in the Bronx have boroughwide eligibility to all Bronx middle schools.

CITYWIDE PROGRAMS Open to all NYC residents
These programs are open to all middle school applicants across the city. Some citywide middle schools may require students to audition as part of the admissions process—learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Middle.

PROGRAM FEATURES
Once you know which programs your child can apply to, it’s time to learn more about them! Consider what matters most to you—this might be location, language offerings, a sports team, or accessibility. See Section 2.0 for a tutorial on how to use MySchools to search for and explore programs.

CHARTER SCHOOLS
Charter schools are free public schools that operate independently from the DOE and are open to all NYC students. All students eligible to apply to DOE public middle schools are also eligible to apply to charter middle schools. Charter schools have a separate admissions process. If you would like to apply to a charter school, please contact that school directly to find out how to apply. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Charters.

6.3 LEARN HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS

How can you know your chances of getting an offer to a specific program? And how do you increase your chances of getting an offer to a program on your application? It helps to start by learning how offers are made. Students get offers to programs based on four key factors.

Learn more on the following pages.
YOUR APPLICATION CHOICES

The most important factor in determining where your child goes to middle school is how you complete their application. This is your best opportunity for your child to get an offer to a school you prefer, so be sure to make thoughtful choices.

- From your options, choose up to 12 programs that your child would like to attend and add them to your child’s application. Adding more choices increases your chances of getting an offer to one of those choices; it does NOT lower your chance of getting an offer to any of your top-choice programs. You have the same chance of getting an offer from your top choice whether you include only that choice or eleven additional choices below it.

- Be sure to place programs on the application in your true order of preference, with your child’s first-choice program as #1, their second-choice program as #2, and so on. Your child will be considered for their first-choice program first. If they don’t get an offer to their first choice, then they will be considered for their second-choice program as though it were their first choice, and so on. They will get an offer from their highest possible choice considering the other factors discussed in this section. Middle schools will not see what order you place them in and will not know if they were your first or twelfth choice.

EACH PROGRAM’S SEAT AVAILABILITY

SEATS AND DEMAND. Each middle school has a specific number of seats for applicants. Find out how many spots were available for incoming students last year (Seats) and how many students applied for those seats (Applicants) in the Admissions section of MySchools. You can learn how in-demand a program was by how many people applied for each available seat (Applicants Per Seat)—a higher number of applicants per seat means higher demand.

SEAT GROUPS. For admissions purposes only, each program admits general education students and students with disabilities in two separate groups. Your middle school application will show your designation. This is not something you choose.

General Education Students (GE)
- For students who do not have Individualized Education Programs (IEPs)
- For students whose IEPs recommend related services only, or whose current IEPs recommend special education instructional programming* for 20% or less of their academic program

Students with Disabilities (SWD)
- For students who are recommended for special education instructional programming* for more than 20% of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP

*Learn more about what special education instructional programming includes on page 58 of this book.
EACH PROGRAM’S ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

A program’s admissions priorities determine which applicants get offers before others. For a program with more than one admissions priority, applicants are considered for offers in groups, in priority-group order:

- All students in priority group 1 will be considered first.
- If seats remain, students in priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on.

Admissions priorities are only used if a program has more applicants than available seats. You can find any program’s admissions priorities on its MySchools page. When you’re logged in to your account, you can also see your child’s priority group for each program. As you explore your middle school options, check which admissions priority group your child is in for each program of interest. Programs have different admissions priorities, and your child will be in different priority groups for different programs.

TIP Apply to some programs where your child is in priority group 1.

COMMON ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

Sibling Priority

At schools where the final year is eighth grade, middle school applicants with siblings currently in sixth or seventh grade have priority to attend their sibling’s school. If the school has younger grades (for example, grades K-8), middle school applicants with siblings currently in kindergarten, first, second, third, fourth, or fifth, sixth, or seventh grade have priority to attend their sibling’s school. At schools that continue through twelfth grade, middle school applicants with siblings currently in sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, or eleventh grade have priority to attend their sibling’s school.

Priority to continuing 5th graders

Students who currently attend a school that continues to grade 8 or 12 are guaranteed an offer to a program at that middle school if they include it on their application. You do NOT need to place your child’s continuing school as your first choice to keep your guarantee, but you do need to include it on your application.

Priority to students and residents of the district (or borough)

Students may have priority to attend certain programs based on where they live and/or go to school. If a student lives and goes to public school in different boroughs or districts, that student has priority in both places.

Priority to residents of the zone

Students who are zoned to a middle school have priority to attend the zoned program at that school. To get this priority, add your zoned program(s) to your child’s application. You do NOT need to place your zoned program as your first choice to get this priority.

Priority to applicants eligible for free and reduced lunch (FRL) for up to 50% of seats

This is one example of a Diversity in Admissions (DIA) priority. In this case, applicants whose families meet a specific income requirement have an admissions priority to 50% of seats in this program.

STUDENTS’ RANDOMLY ASSIGNED OR RANKED NUMBERS

Based on each program’s admissions method

Learn about admissions methods for middle school programs at schools.nyc.gov/Middle. Get the most up-to-date information on a program’s admissions method in the Admissions section of its MySchools page.

TIP To see an example of how applicants get offers to a program based on seat availability, admissions priorities, and random numbers, turn to the inside back cover.

6.4 APPLY TO MIDDLE SCHOOL

- For current public school students: Your child’s welcome letter will walk you through how to set up your MySchools account and access their application. Your child’s current school counselor can support throughout the admissions process.
- For current private or parochial school students: If you want to apply to DOE middle schools, our Family Welcome Center staff is here to help you set up a MySchools account and get started.

HOW TO APPLY

Mark your calendar! The middle school application deadline is ___/___/___ (fill in the blanks).

Before you apply, be sure to check if specific programs on your application have additional requirements, such as auditions, and to complete them by the deadline provided.
Apply one of three ways by the deadline:

Online with MySchools. Recommended! During the application period, this option is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Apply online in English, Arabic, Bangla, Chinese, French, Haitian Creole, Korean, Russian, Spanish, and Urdu. Don’t forget to click the Submit Application button. When you see the confetti, you’ll know we’ve received your child’s application!

Through your child’s current public school counselor. Speak to a school counselor—they can help you submit your application.

Through a Family Welcome Center. Find our most up-to-date hours and locations at schools.nyc.gov/FWC. Interpretation services are available in more than 200 languages: you can ask questions and request information about admissions in your language.

6.5 GET YOUR OFFER

Your child’s middle school offer letter will include an offer to a DOE public middle school for fall 2023. It will also include information about waitlists and next steps. For the most up-to-date information on waitlists, visit schools.nyc.gov/Waitlists.

WAITLISTS

A middle school program’s waitlist is a list of applicants who applied to that program but did not receive an offer to attend it. If a seat becomes available at a program after offers go out, the school can make an offer to the first student on that program’s waitlist.

- Your child is automatically on the waitlist for any program that you listed higher on your child’s application than the program where they got an offer. For example, if your child got an offer to attend the program you listed third on their application, they will automatically be added to the waitlist for your first- and second-choice programs.
- When waitlists open (after offers go out), you have the option to add your child to additional programs’ waitlists.
- While waitlists are open, you can use your MySchools account to add your child to waitlists, check your child’s place on any school’s waitlist, and accept or decline waitlist offers. Waitlist offers are made based on seat availability, admissions priorities, and admissions methods according to your seat group.
- If a school can make you a waitlist offer, they will contact you directly, and you would have approximately one week to accept or decline that offer.

TIP  Watch our high school admissions video series at schools.nyc.gov/High and our Specialized High Schools videos at schools.nyc.gov/SHS. We’ll walk you through how to explore schools and programs, create a MySchools account, and apply.

7.1 WHO CAN APPLY?

To apply to high school and/or participate in Specialized High Schools admissions in New York City, you must be both:

- A NYC resident and
- A current eighth grade or ninth grade student who is not repeating ninth grade.

7.2 EXPLORE HIGH SCHOOLS AND PROGRAMS

In NYC, you have hundreds of high school options, and you can apply to programs across the city. As you begin exploring, consider what matters most to you—this might be location, language offerings, AP courses, a particular interest area, a sports team, or accessibility.

- Year-round, anyone can search for schools and programs in the MySchools public directory at MySchools.nyc/schools/high-school.
- After you get your welcome letter, you can log in to your MySchools.nyc account, to access a personalized search and save favorite programs. When the application opens, you can start adding programs to your application.
- The Specialized High Schools use a separate admissions process and cannot be added to your high school application—see Sections 7.0 and 7.5-7.6.
TYPES OF HIGH SCHOOLS
Some high schools reserve seats for specific student groups, serve students who are new to this country, offer additional services for students and families, or provide opportunities for students to earn college credits and/or gain work experience. You can learn more about these high school options—including Career and Technical Education programs, Early College schools, and Community School on the DOE website and in MySchools.

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAMS
When you apply to high school, you are really applying to programs. Think of programs as doorways to get into a school. If a school has multiple programs, you can apply to more than one program at that school. For instance, a school might have a film/video program and a technology program; if you were interested in both film and computer science, you might apply to both programs at the same school. They would count as two different program choices on your application.

Some programs have seats set aside for students who are starting tenth grade next year; if you are a current first-time ninth grade student, you can apply to these programs.

Each school’s MySchools directory page includes program information. Browse these sections to find programs that interest you. Program information can also help you figure out your chances of getting an offer to a specific program. See Section 2.0 for a tutorial on how to use MySchools.

All programs offer a broad liberal arts education, and all include courses across a wide range of subjects. Additionally, most programs focus on up to two interest areas, such as architecture or science and math, and they may offer additional courses in that subject or field. Many but not all programs’ interest areas are also part of their names.

Schools offer programs in the following 21 interest areas:

- Animal science
- Architecture
- Business
- Communications
- Computer science and technology
- Cosmetology
- Culinary arts
- Engineering
- Environmental science
- Film/video
- Health professions
- Hospitality, travel, and tourism
- Humanities and interdisciplinary
- JROTC
- Law and government
- Performing arts
- Performing arts/visual art and design
- Project-based learning
- Science and math
- Teaching
- Visual art and design
SCHOOL AND PROGRAM ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Some schools or programs are only open to students who speak a home language other than English or who meet other eligibility requirements. For instance, a program’s eligibility could be “Open only to New York City residents whose home language is Spanish.” This means that only students whose home language is Spanish can list this program on their application.

Please note that a program may have more specific eligibility requirements than the larger school. If no eligibility is listed, all students can apply.

CHARTER HIGH SCHOOLS

Charter schools are free public high schools that are open to all NYC students and that operate independently from the DOE. All students eligible to apply to DOE public high schools are also eligible to apply to charter high schools. Charter schools have a separate admissions process—you cannot add them to your high school application. If you would like to apply to a charter high school, please contact that school directly to find out how to apply. Learn more at schools.nyc.gov/Charters.

LEARN HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS

How can you know your chances of getting an offer to a specific high school program? It helps to start by learning how offers are made. Students get offers to programs based on four key factors—learning about them can help you know your chances of getting an offer to each program of interest. For an example of how this works, turn to the inside back cover.

YOUR APPLICATION CHOICES

The number of choices you add to your application and how you order them matter. Adding more meaningful choices increases your chances of receiving an offer to a program you want. To understand what makes a balanced application, first read about these four factors, then use the Balanced Application Checklist [see the end of this section] as a guide.

There is no way to guarantee an offer to your first-choice program, or to any program on your application. The best way to get an offer from your application and to be happy with that offer is to apply to 12 programs (no fewer), any of which you’d be happy to attend. With more than 700 program options to choose from, we invite you to explore a variety of programs.

- Adding more meaningful choices to your application increases your chance of getting an offer to a program you want.
- Adding more choices will NOT harm your chances of getting an offer to your favorite program; however, listing fewer than 12 choices lowers your chances of getting an offer to a program of your choice.
• Place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program as #1. There is no better strategy! You will be considered for your first-choice program first. If you don’t get an offer to your first choice, then you will be considered for your second-choice program as though it were your first choice, and so on. High schools will not see your application choice order, so they will not know if they are your first or twelfth choice.

EACH PROGRAM’S SEAT AVAILABILITY
For admissions purposes, each high school program admits students in two seat groups: general education students and students with disabilities. Your application will show your designation—this is not something you choose.

SEAT GROUPS

General Education Students (GE)
• For students who do not have IEPs
• For students whose IEPs recommend related services only, or whose current IEPs recommend special education instructional programming* for 20% or less of their academic program

Students with Disabilities (SWD)
• For students who are recommended for special education programming* for more than 20% of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP

*Special education instructional programming includes Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) classes, Special Class (SC), and Special Education Teacher Support Services (SETSS). Adapted Physical Education (APE) and Related services, such as speech, occupational therapy (OT), and physical therapy (PT), are not considered special education instructional programming for the purposes of high school admissions. Students with 504 plans are not entitled to seats for students with disabilities if they do not have an IEP recommending the student also receive special education instructional programming for more than 20% of their academic program.

Seats and Demand
Each high school program has a specific number of seats for applicants. You can find out how many seats were available at this program last year (Seats) and how many total students applied for those seats (Applicants) in the Admissions section of MySchools. Learn how in-demand a program was by how many people applied for each available seat (Applicants Per Seat). Note that all numbers are from last year.

A program’s applicants per seat shows how in-demand or popular the program was last year. This can help you know your chances of getting an offer to that program.

• If a program has 10 or more applicants per seat, it is in high demand. All applicants have a lower chance of getting an offer to a program with 10 or more applicants per seat.
• If a program has five to nine applicants per seat, it is in average demand. Consider more factors to determine your chances of getting an offer.
• If a program has four or fewer applicants per seat, it is in lower demand. In most situations, you would have a higher chance of getting an offer to this program, but consider more factors to determine your chances. Be sure to check the program’s eligibility description and your priority group for the program.

EACH PROGRAM’S ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

Some programs give a priority to specific groups of applicants before others. If a program has multiple admissions priorities, applicants are considered in groups. A program’s admissions priorities determine the order in which these groups are considered for offers to each program.

• All applicants in priority group 1 will be considered first.
• If seats are still available, applicants in priority group 2 will be considered next.

Continuing Programs

Students who currently attend a school that continues to grade 12 are guaranteed an offer to a program at that high school if they include it on their application. Students are considered for any programs listed on their application above their continuing school first. You do NOT need to place your child’s continuing school as your first choice to keep your guarantee, but you do need to include it on your application.

Diversity in Admissions (DIA)

Some programs give a priority for a certain percentage of seats to students who are English Language Learners (ELLs), are low-income, or who meet other criteria. The schools currently participating in DIAs are listed at schools.nyc.gov/DiversityAdmissions. You can learn about programs’ specific priorities on their MySchools pages.

ADMISSIONS METHODS

Admissions methods are the ways programs make offers to students; they also describe what you need to do to be considered for a program. In most cases, all you have to do is list the program on your application. There are two broader types of admissions methods—those that use randomly assigned numbers (students are not ranked) and those that use ranked numbers (students are ranked).

BALANCED APPLICATION CHECKLIST

Before you submit your application, use this checklist! Does your application have...

- 12 program choices, ANY of which you’d be happy to attend. Finding more programs that interest you and adding them to your application increases your chance of getting an offer to a program you want.

- Your program choices in your true preference order. Always place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program as #1. There is no better strategy!

- Not just high-demand programs. Fewer applicants per seat at a program means a higher chance of getting an offer there.

- Some programs where you are in priority group 1. Being in a program’s first priority group means a higher chance of getting an offer to it.

- A mix of admissions methods. If you’re applying to any screened or audition programs, be sure to also include some programs that use other admissions methods.

Be sure to check if specific programs on your application have additional requirements, such as auditions, and to complete them by the deadline provided.

PARTICIPATE IN SPECIALIZED HIGH SCHOOLS ADMISSIONS

There are nine Specialized High Schools in New York City. These schools have a separate admissions process from the high school application. You can apply to one Specialized High School by auditioning and up to eight of these schools by taking the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT).

ONE AUDITION SPECIALIZED HIGH SCHOOL—AUDITION TO APPLY

During the registration and audition periods, you can apply to Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts (LaGuardia) by registering to audition and then submitting a portfolio and/or auditioning in a talent area for up to six different arts programs:

- Fine & Visual Art
- Instrumental Music
- Drama
- Vocal Music
- Dance
- Technical Theater

LaGuardia High School also considers students’ academic records. Applicants to LaGuardia programs do not need to take the SHSAT; this test is not used to make offers to LaGuardia.

Visit schools.nyc.gov/SHS to:
- Learn how and when to register and audition.
- Find out how to prepare for auditions in each discipline.

EIGHT TESTING SPECIALIZED HIGH SCHOOLS—TAKE THE SHSAT TO APPLY

During the registration and testing periods, you can apply to any/all of the other eight Specialized High Schools by registering for and then taking the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT). This process also includes indicating which of these schools you’d want to attend, in your true order of preference:

- The Bronx High School of Science
- The Brooklyn Latin School
- Brooklyn Technical High School
- High School for Mathematics, Science and Engineering at City College of New York
- High School of American Studies at Lehman College
- Queens High School for the Sciences at York College
- Staten Island Technical High School
- Stuyvesant High School

Visit schools.nyc.gov/SHS to:

- Find practice tests and information about the exam. Learn about testing accommodations for the SHSAT at schools.nyc.gov/SHS.

GET YOUR OFFER

OFFERS
Your high school offer letter will include any high school offer(s) including, if applicable, any Specialized High Schools results. It will also include information about waitlists and next steps. If you get more than one offer (such as to a Specialized High School and a program from your application), you will be given a deadline to choose one.

After offers are released, you can use your MySchools account to:

- Access your offer information.
- Choose between multiple offers, if applicable.

During offer season, many schools will have open houses, orientation events, and/or resources for prospective and/or admitted students. Check schools’ websites for the most up-to-date information on these opportunities.

WAITLISTS
A program’s waitlist is a list of applicants who want to attend that program but do not have an offer to it. Waitlists open after offer letters go out. Then, while waitlists are open, high schools use waitlists to fill any ninth- or tenth-grade seats that become available. If any seats become available at a program while waitlists are open, the school can make waitlist offers to the students on that program’s waitlist. Schools can only make waitlist offers in the order students are positioned on its waitlist. Learn more about waitlists at schools.nyc.gov/Waitlists.

- You are automatically on the waitlist for any program that you listed higher on your application than the program where you received an offer. For example, if you got an offer to attend the program you listed third on your application, you will automatically be on the waitlist for your first- and second-choice programs.
- When waitlists open, you can use your MySchools account to:
  - Add yourself to additional programs’ waitlists—this is optional.
  - Check your position on any program’s waitlist.
  - Accept or decline waitlist offers, if applicable. Not all programs will have available seats, so not all programs will make waitlist offers. If you are on a waitlist, this is not a guarantee that you will receive a waitlist offer.
  - If a school can make you a waitlist offer, they will contact you directly, and you will have approximately one week to accept or decline that offer. If you accept a waitlist offer, it replaces your current offer.

HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS

There are four factors that determine which students are matched to which programs.

YOUR APPLICATION CHOICES

The choices that you add to your application and the order in which you place them matter! The best strategy is to put programs in your true order of preference, with your first choice at the top as #1. You will be considered for your first-choice program first and be matched to your highest possible choice based on the factors that follow. No school or program will know if you placed them first or last on your application.

EACH PROGRAM’S AVAILABLE SEATS

Each program has a certain number of available seats. If a program has more applicants than seats, the factors listed below are used to make offers.

EACH PROGRAM’S ADMISSIONS PRIORITIES

Some programs give admissions priorities to specific groups of applicants before others, such as to students who live in a specific district, who have siblings at the school, or who speak specific languages. All students in a program’s priority group 1 are considered first for offers. Then, if seats are still available, students in that program’s priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on. You will be in different priority groups for different programs.

ADMISSIONS METHOD

Based on factors like students’ randomly assigned numbers, academic records, auditions, ELL status, or enrollment in a continuing school.

- For most processes and programs, each applicant is assigned a random number as part of the admissions process. If there are fewer available seats than applicants within a priority group, these randomly assigned numbers determine the order in which students get offers—note the example on the facing page to see how this works!

- Some processes and programs use admissions methods that evaluate applicants (such as by audition). For these programs, students are evaluated, scored, and assigned ranked numbers based on specific selection criteria. Then applicants to that program are admitted in ranked-number order by their scores. If there are fewer available seats than applicants within a priority group, students get offers in order by the strength of their ranked number. For any admissions process with programs that will evaluate (screen) applicants this year, clear information on how they will do so will be shared before that process opens.

How students get offers to a sample program

Program X has eight available seats and eleven applicants. Because there are more applicants than seats, not all applicants will get an offer to Program X. This means that admissions priorities for Program X will determine which groups of applicants receive an offer first.

First, the applicants in priority group 1 are considered for offers. Since there are four of them and eight available seats, all priority 1 applicants get an offer to this program.

Next, the applicants in priority group 2 are considered for offers. Four seats remain, and since there are only three applicants in priority group 2, all of them get offers.

Finally, the applicants in priority group 3 are considered for offers. Only one seat is left. This means that students’ randomly assigned numbers will determine who gets that offer.

As part of the admissions process, each applicant was assigned a random number. Applicants are ordered by random number within priority groups.

Only the student with the strongest random number from priority group 3 gets an offer to this program. Now all seats at Program X are filled.

The remaining three applicants do not get an offer to Program X. These students will now be considered for offers at the next program on each of their applications. They are also each added to this program’s waitlist.

ABOUT THIS COVER Each year, the NYC Department of Education and Cooper Hewitt, Smithsonian Design Museum, partner on a cover design challenge for public high school students. This book’s cover was designed by Leilani Sanchez, a student at the High School of Art and Design (Teacher: Carl Landegger, Principal: Maximilian Re-Sugiura). Sanchez’s design is inspired by the diverse backgrounds and unique character of students in NYC. This cover’s use of inclusive representation lets other students know they’re not alone, and it’s okay to not look like someone else.
